is there anyway I can switch my account settings from the "Free" matrix selection to the "Advanced" selection?

2

I was not able to do so.. I don't think you can just switch server as the username can already be in use on other server.. they are completely separate and you will need a new account.

3 Yes, you do this when you register. If you already created your account, create a new one.

2 actually, just log out, hit advanced tab, put in the desired url into the url bar. and then register an account on that url

3 Disregard last, I found it. But I didn't register the right way so I'm trying to figure out how to unfuck my account...

Edit: account unfucked, should be working now

3 I did the same thing and just made a whole new account under the advanced option haha. Not sure if it will let you use the same name in both or not, I changed mine.

2 At first it didn't want to let me use the name I had registered under the free option, but after playing with it for awhile it seems to have let me register on donaldsarmy with my username.

3 I know that feeling - for whatever reason I had the hardest time finding the Advanced / other c first screen.

5 Ok, I'm lost here. I did proton, then got into element io. but I'm not sure what to do under the advanced tab. Somebody please DM me and walk me through this. I'm a tech retard.

deleted 2 months ago +3 / -0▲ alex_p_keaton_III 2 months ago +3 / -03 Where are you stuck? If it's on the registration page of element.io, you need to start the registration new account, but before you fill out the user name and password there are three square boxes (ab space to fill out your user and password). Select the box on the right and change the information fr default listing to <https://matrix.donaldsarmy.us/> Then fill in user and password. Once you're registered,

I wish that had been clarified. So what if I made an account first? Will I be able to get in? Or am I going to have to start over from scratch?

▲ alex_p_keaton_III 2 months ago +2 / -0

Just log out and create a new account (right from the login page) and select the box on the right first. I did the same thing and muddled my way through and figured it out. I used the same user name and password for the new account (YMMV). Make sure if you ever log out to enter in the <https://matrix.donaldsarmy.us> in the box instead of the default if you keep the same user and password. The computer literate don't always make it clear what to do, unfortunately.

You have to go under the advanced tab first, before creating an account.

Go to advanced, copy the server url mentioned above, then create an account. That way, your account will be registered only to that server and not for other servers on that website, at least that's what I understand.

2 I've added servers before, but this one won't add. I've been using matrix/element for almost a year never had a problem adding stuff. Is it having issues?

1 ▼ You figure Silicuck Valley would somehow clue in that if our group is banned from their services, we'll join or create better services.

Oh well. I always considered White Sands Missile Range the original Silicon Valley. Maybe Silicon Valley could move there, and stand by their name while they get glassed?

1 ▼ How certain are we that Element.io isn't a deep state op? Man, I know I sound paranoid, but that's what happens when paranoia evolves into reality. I don't want to join yet another app/service that acts as a setup (i.e., Bitchute, GitHub, etc)
